SOCIETY EDITOR

The weeks just passed have demonstrated that after all it is the spring and not the winter season that is the gayest socially. There are events without number scheduled for the days to come. In the March and April Country club draws its largest contingents from town for Wednesday tennis luncheons, Saturday teas, and occasional evening affairs are not frequent enough pleasures to satisfy its members who find in it the most desirable of all places for a morning or afternoon of tennis, golf or auction.

Mrs. Robert Peabody and Miss Ruth Jessop presided at yesterday's tea. Among others there were present, Mr. and Mrs. George Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Beger, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. H. J. Jessop, Mrs. W. C. Foster, Mrs. Orman Smart, Mrs. John Spangler of Mesa, Mrs. Harold C. Bennett, Mrs. E. T. Collins, Mrs. B. E. Van Swearingen, Mrs. E. E. Pascoe, Mrs. Donald Dunbar, Mrs. E. Paul Collins, Mrs. Evelyn Darby, Mrs. Harry Kay, Mrs. Fen Hildreth, Mrs. Vernon Cook, Mrs. Herman Perry De Mund, Miss Ellen Conway, Miss Anna Archer, Miss Faye De Mund, Miss Butler, Miss Verde Butler and Robert Beardsley.

Mrs. F. M. Jackson and Miss Samella Jackson, prominent society folk of Fort, Colorado, are recent arrivals. They are established at the Adams for the spring season.

Miss Mary Scott, of Galesburg, Ill., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Blount, of North Central avenue for the past ten days, will leave this evening for the Grand Canyon en route for her home. The Blounts are entertaining over the weekend Miss Frances Patterson, of Tien Tsin, China, who is leaving tomorrow for the California coast.

Mrs. A. B. Nichols gave a charmingly appointed afternoon, Wednesday at her home on East Willetta street. Green carnations gracefully arranged with tulle in emerald baskets carried out the St. Patrick suggestion and the dainty favors. Mrs. Nichols received her guests in a sea green tulle gown trimmed in Irish crochet and velvet ribbon.

The prizes were won by Mrs. J. T. Alkire and Miss Ella Lohrs. Those who shared the pleasure of the affair were Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter, Mrs. George Olney, Mrs. Daniel Francis, Mrs. James H. McInlock, Mrs. William Kennedy, Mrs. David Goldberg, Mrs. John R. Hampton, Mrs. J. T. Alkire, Mrs. J. G. Van Leuven, Mrs. Jo Green, Mrs. Eugene Redewill, Mrs. Vernon Cook, Mrs. Julian Holmes, Mrs. Ralph Cameron, Mrs. Tom Campbell, Mrs. Ned Creighton, Mrs. Lyman Bennett, Mrs. Arthur Lohrs, Mrs. H. E. Campbell, Mrs. Ira J. Johnson, Mrs. C. M. Scott, Mrs. T. W. Pemberton, Mrs. H. Clay Parker, Mrs. Preston T. Shays, Mrs. M. P. Sims, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. D. D. Crabb, Mrs. I. T. Wolpe, Mrs. J. C. Reiger, Mrs. Rupert Moore, Mrs. Robert Brownfield, Mrs. S. J. Michelson, Miss Henrietta Olney, Miss Ella Lohrs and Miss Emma Lohrs.

An informal dance was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bertram at their home on West Portland street. The house throughout was prettily decorated in scarlet flax. There were present Mr. and Mrs. A. Cass Redewill, Miss Ella Lohrs, Miss Faye De Mund, Miss Emma Lohrs, Miss Ruth Payne, Charles De Mund, Edward Bertram, Harry Johnson, Jack Langdon and Arthur Taylor.

Mrs. Thomas McGinnis and Mrs. Charles O'Malley were hostesses Wednesday at the McGinnis residence on North Central avenue which was decorated attractively in a wealth of desert poppies. Seven tables enjoyed their hospitality, the prizes being won by Mrs. Sal Rosenblatt, Mrs. Robt. Fromm, Mrs. Henry Greenbaum and Mrs. Redmond Toohy.

Complimentary to Mrs. Otto Speakman, who left Thursday for Pittsburg and Mrs. H. D. McVay who leaves early in April for El Paso, Mrs. E. W. Baum presided over a beautifully appointed luncheon Wednesday at her home on North Seventh avenue. Golden poppies decorated effectively and hand painted place cards marked covers for eighteen.

Mrs. Walter B. Wilde, Miss Margaret Wilde, Miss Florence Leisy, Lester Byron, John Rinker Kibbey and Ernest Bennett will picnic today at the Black Canyon.

Captain and Mrs. J. L. B. Alexander gave a charmingly arranged dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Willard Austin (Florence Alexander) at their north Third Avenue residence. Covers were laid for Mrs. Gustin, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baxter.

Mrs. E. E. Pascoe will be a luncheon hostess Thursday at her home 624 North Second Avenue.

Phoenix society was largely represented at the Tucson fair. A number of smart folk went down on Friday are expected to return to town today. The week end was the gayest in the social history of the Old Pueblo, the dance at the Tucson Country Club last evening taking precedence over all the delightful affairs of the festive season. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burr Atha, Miss Selma Goldberg, Hugh Marshall, William A. Horrell, Donald Green and William Coleman Rogers, are among others who are in the southland.

A picnic to Telegraph Pass was one of the pleasant events of Sunday. Those who motored out for the day were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Green, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burr Atha, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Page, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Myers, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edwin Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Craig, Mrs. J. H. Moriarty, Miss Henrietta Olney, Miss Cecelia, Joe (Cass), Stanwood Murphy, Alexander Baker, William Coleman Rogers, Fred Almy, and L. N. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pascoe were dinner hosts Thursday at their home 624 North Second Avenue, which was decorated in graceful arrangement of desert poppies. An historical game was a feature of the evening, the prizes being awarded to Mrs. J. O. Sexton and Frank Stewart. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bowman of Celina, Ohio, and asked to meet them were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Maus, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Young, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones.

Mrs. G. Fred Sharpe was hostess of the Priscilla club Wednesday when she gave a picnic at Poppy Flats. A cafeteria luncheon was served and the decorations were suggestive of the day and jolly St. Patrick games were played. The guests of the club were Mrs. J. Harvey Deere, Mrs. L. W. Cogins, Mrs. Hurl Peckings, Mrs. B. T. Gillette, Mrs. R. C. Baker, Mrs. D. D. Crabb, Mrs. Ina M. Earle, Mrs. Louise Sharpe, Mrs. W. J. Williams, Mrs. J. B. Bates, Mrs. S. H. Sistrum, Miss Ira Brown, and Miss Peterson. Mrs. K. S. Townsend of Highland Road will entertain the club Wednesday a week.

The most elaborate event of spring was the beautifully appointed dance given Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Harland Gray in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Salter of Boston. The green decoration expressed the St. Patrick season and was most artistically carried out in the loveliest greenery of the valley and the juniper berries that were sent from the hills of Yavapai for the gala occasion. Olive branches and palms were arranged in the reception room while the auditorium was decked in ivy, Easter lilies, and carnations. The side lights were festooned in greens to which tulle lent a softening and effective touch. The garlands of greens and flowers formed a pleasing background for the many handsome costumes. The music was especially attractive for the dance program. The card rooms were embellished in juniper and auction was played until midnight when supper was served. The prize winners at cards were Mrs. Henry D. Ross, Mrs. C. H. Davidson, Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs. Herman Perry De Mund, Dr. Francis Redewill, T. W. Duncan, L. M. Harrison and Herman Perry De Mund.

Receiving with the hosts and guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lockett, Senator and Mrs. H. E. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Redewill, Mr. and Mrs. James I. Griffen, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Tafel, Mr. and Mrs. William Finney and Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kuchler gave a luncheon Wednesday at the Arizona Club. The table's effective centerpiece was of lilies and covers were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fennimore and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Sims.

Mrs. Harry Kennedy who is giving a series of afternoon affairs entertained Saturday afternoon. She will give another event on Monday afternoon.

Word from Oakland brings the interesting news of the engagement of Mrs. William Dargie and Frederick S. Stratton, former collector of port. The wedding will take place after Easter. Mrs. Dargie is a member of one of the old Spanish families of California and has all the charm and fascination that made her ancestors the leaders of society in the early days. She is clever, cultured and much traveled. During the intervals between her many journeys across country, Mexico and abroad she has passed several weeks in Phoenix, the guest of Mrs. Robert Wallace Craig, whose guest she may be later in the year. She is the great favorite here. The favorite numbers were the "Pyrotechnical" act of Mr. McArthur in which Mrs. McArthur, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Ruth Jessop, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Rose Bell Goldman, Judge Kent Homer King, Hugh Marshall and William Coleman Rogers took part and Mr. Van Swearingen's "Chauffeur" by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peabody and Mrs. Van Swearingen. The club was decorated with green garlands in honor of Ireland's patron saint. General dancing followed the charades and supper was served at midnight. There were over one hundred guests present.

The most successful evening given by the Country Club took place Wednesday evening when a group of clever charades were given by two teams captained by Charles McArthur and B. E. Van Swearingen. Both featured their words in amusing one act plays that rivaled in acting and skill lines many vaudeville skits. The favorite numbers were the "Pyrotechnical" act of Mr. McArthur in which Mrs. McArthur, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Ruth Jessop, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Rose Bell Goldman, Judge Kent Homer King, Hugh Marshall and William Coleman Rogers took part and Mr. Van Swearingen's "Chauffeur" by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peabody and Mrs. Van Swearingen. The club was decorated with green garlands in honor of Ireland's patron saint. General dancing followed the charades and supper was served at midnight. There were over one hundred guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison Lewis (Kema Dorris) are being extensively feted in the east. Their few weeks in Louisville and White Sulphur Springs were a round of pleasurable affairs which have been repeated in New York where they are now enjoying a brief stay. En route for the west they will visit in Chicago and Cincinnati arriving in Phoenix early in April. Their return will be hailed with delight by their host of friends, who regret their time here will be of short duration as they will leave almost immediately for Los Angeles where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dorris of Casa de Rosas, while here.

Mrs. Joseph Kibbey returned yesterday from Florence where she passed the week. She shortly anticipated a visit from Mrs. Walter Kibbey of El Centro who will be in Phoenix until summer.

The Junior set to the number of one hundred enjoyed a delightful dance at the Woman's club Friday evening. The affair was given by the El Navarro club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Frost of Chelatis, Wash., and Mrs. D. C. Millette of New York were recent luncheon guests at the Ingleside Country club.

Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers and Mrs. Charles McArthur gave the second of the series of spring card afternoons with which they are entertaining in honor of Mrs. S. E. Coats of Los Angeles on Thursday at the Chalmers residence on the McDowell road. Desert and garden poppies made an attractive decoration and clusters of violets added to the effective floral adornment. The tully cards featured spring flowers. The auction prizes were won by Mrs. Homer King, Mrs. Harry Goldwater and Mrs. B. E. Van Swearingen while Mrs. William Kennedy Humbert made the winning score at hearts. Fifteen tables enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. Thomas Flint Nichols made Mrs. Mitchell Gilliam of Seattle the motif for a delightful afternoon of auction yesterday at her apartments at the Garfield. This was the initial of a series of attractive affairs, with which Mrs. Nichols will entertain this spring, and her guests included Mrs. Gilliam, Mrs. A. R. Gatter, Mrs. E. J. Bennett, Mrs. John Bennett, Jr., Mrs. F. A. Tittle, Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. Harry Goldwater, Mrs. Julian Holmes, Mrs. Sidney Boddington, Mrs. Lamar Cobb, Mrs. Clay Leonard and Mrs. H. J. Lee.

Mrs. Horace Knowles of North Central avenue presided over a charmingly appointed luncheon of eight covers on Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Ainsworth is among the many Phoenixians in Tucson. She is the guest of Mrs. Arthur McNeil (Blanche Oster).

Spring is given over largely to informal affairs and of these none are more popular than picnic suppers. The last week has been notable for scores of pleasant motor parties to the places of interest in the valley. A recent picnic was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dorris, Mr. and Mrs. George Archer of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Beger of The Hague, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Marshall of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Humbert, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dorris, Mrs. Sidney Boddington, Mrs. Thomas E. Clark, Mrs. Frederick Chormann, Miss Anna Archer, Miss Marion Dorris, Hugh Marshall and Robert Beardsley.

Mrs. Francis H. Redewill of 1402 North Third street will entertain Thursday and Friday afternoons in honor of Miss Ella Redewill. Miss Redewill will return from California Wednesday after a most successful appearance as piano soloist with Fisher's Los Angeles orchestra.

Mrs. D. D. Horning gave an attractive luncheon Wednesday at her home 411 West Monroe street. The pink and white color scheme used in decoration was conceived in geraniums and hyacinths. Covers were laid for Mrs. S. B. Ainsworth of Mason City, Iowa, Mrs. A. L. Moore, Mrs. W. B. Lount, Mrs. S. H. Mitchell and Miss Gertrude Mitchell.

The Monday Auction Club met with Mrs. Eugene Redewill of West Washington street, the high score being made by Mrs. Harold C. Bennett. Mrs. E. E. Parsons of 915 North Central avenue will be hostess of the club tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibbons Hullett entertained the D. T. Club at dinner Friday evening at their West Roosevelt street residence. Dr. and Mrs. William G. Lentz were the substitutes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldsworthy of 222 West Roosevelt street left Tuesday for a week's stay in San Francisco.

The Hole-in-the-Rock was the scene of a jolly picnic Wednesday evening. In the party were Mrs. Walter B. Wilde, Mrs. Asa B. Kennan, Mrs. Harry Waldon of Los Angeles, Miss Ruth Griffen, Miss Margaret Wilde, Miss Florence Leisy, Miss Katherine Kennan, Lester Byron, Kenneth Freedland, Ted Freedland, John Hunker Kibbey, Ernest Bennett and William Fickas.

Mrs. Virginia Garnett of Nowata, Oklahoma is the guest of Mrs. M. E. Garnett of 619 North Third avenue.

Mrs. Royal Lescher will return early in April from an absence of several weeks in the east. She is in Buffalo at present where she is being delightfully entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fleming of 341 North Sixth avenue entertained with progressive whist Thursday evening. The prizes were won by Mrs. Edward Beaver and L. M. Adams. There
